Discussion points

Building a common framework

How culture and language influence communication

Three pillars of effective communication

Applying your knowledge

We communicate in all kinds of ways, all day, every day.

- Direct meetings and conversations
- Our dress, body language, and greetings
- Telephone, e-mail, memos, and letters
- Brochures (ours and others we share with individuals we serve)
- How we interpret plans, orders, directions, or decisions
- Information on websites
- Referrals to or from other services
- Navigation around facilities

Communication is every way in which we discuss, receive, or convey information

The Cost of Low Literacy

Illiteracy has tremendous consequences, but these consequences go beyond the affected individual. They affect families, communities and the entire society.

Annual U.S. Tab For Low Literacy

$80
Billion

in lost worker
productivity

$106-236
Billion

The cost of low
health literacy
each year

$225
Billion

in unemployment
benefits, lost
taxes and crime

Every dollar invested in adult literacy yields $7.14 in return.

Did You Know?

The less education someone has, the lower their numeracy abilities and, therefore, the lower their financial literacy skills are.

A parent's educational level is the greatest indicator of whether their child will grow up in poverty.

CULTURAL RELEVANCE

Understanding other cultures is great but...

NOTES

Each person's unique cultural background influences his/her health beliefs, attitudes, and practices.

Everyone brings their own cultural backgrounds, values styles, beliefs, and biases to encounters with service providers.

BUT understanding YOUR own cultural background, beliefs, attitudes, and behaviors and how they may be affecting your communication IS MORE IMPORTANT to building an effective relationship with families from diverse backgrounds.

Nonverbal Communication varies greatly among people, often leading to cross-cultural misunderstanding

Rethinking Culture

Culture can be....

THICK

THIN

COMPARTMENTALIZED

Key Points on Culture

Dynamic web of meaning

Often outside our awareness

Influences how and with whom we can connect

Everyone has it

What can you do? Attitudes...

1. Proactively work to eliminate inequities in your practice

2. Recognize the lifelong commitment

3. Commit to equal quality and fairness for every family

So What Can You Do? Knowledge...

Awareness of internalized beliefs, values, norms, and biases.

Understanding how ethnocentrism influences our interactions

Understanding how culture impacts behaviors around health, illness, and health seeking practices

Awareness of demographic changes and implications to your services

Awareness of cross cultural variation in verbal and non-verbal communication

It's important for Compliance

“No person shall, on the grounds of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal assistance.”

—Civil Rights Act of 1964

Organizations are required to take reasonable steps to ensure meaningful access to their programs and activities by English Language Learners.

It's important for Compliance

Federal law requires programs that educate children with limited English proficiency to be:

1. based on a sound educational theory;
2. adequately supported, with adequate and effective staff and resources, so that the program has a realistic chance of success; and
3. periodically evaluated and, if necessary, revised.

I get the gist anyway! :-)

Avoid the crisis

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

What Can You Do?

Speak in relatively short segments; pause so there is time to interpret.

Ask interpreter interpret everything into the first person (avoid “he said, she said”)

Ask open ended questions and talk directly to the person.

Avoid using slang or idioms

- “A bundle of nerves”
- “Chip off the ole block”
- “No pain, no gain”

Speak about one thing at a time.
